ORANGE COUNTY ANNOUNCES WORTHINGTON ARCHITECTURAL MILLWORK TO EXPAND AND MOVE INTO THOMAS E. LEE INDUSTRIAL PARK

Orange County, VA – Orange County is pleased to announce that Worthington Architectural Millwork will invest $1.473 million, over the next three years, to expand its manufacturing operation in Orange County. Worthington Architectural Millwork specializes in high-end residential custom cabinetry, custom millwork, commercial interiors, and museum exhibit fabrication. The expansion is anticipated to create 26 new jobs over the next three (3) years. Worthington Architectural Millwork's sister company, Seabury Moore, LLC., which specializes in high-end custom home building, will co-locate in the future 20,000 sq. ft. building to be constructed on a 5-acre pad-ready site located in the Thomas E. Lee Industrial Park.

The Economic Development Authority incentivized Worthington Architectural Millwork to keep its operations in the County by offering a discounted land sale in exchange for their $1.473 million investment. "This is really great news for Orange County. Worthington Architectural Millwork has been a wonderful corporate citizen for Orange County, and we are so excited that they have chosen to continue operating here in the County," noted Rose Deal, Economic Development Director.

"We are thrilled to be able to keep our growing business in Orange County and even more excited to be able to launch our new business (Seabury Moore) here as well. Together, my business partner Maureen and I, intend to bring organization, efficiency, and effectiveness back to the general contracting process. As strong female leaders it is our hope to attract capable women and men to mentor within both businesses. We aren't afraid of hard work and look forward to continuing to help our local community thrive," noted Alycia Worthington, majority-owner of Worthington Architectural Millwork.

Worthington Architectural Millwork has been headquartered in Liberty Park located in Gordonsville, Virginia since 2015, and is a SWaM Certified Small Woman-Owned Business in the Commonwealth of Virginia.
